GOP DEMANDS IMPEACHMENT OF WALLACE

AAA Substitute Bill On Its Way To Floor

By D. Harold Oliver
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, Jan. 29.—(P)—The house heard a fiery Republican demand for "impeachment" of Secretary Wallace today as inflation implications accompanied passage of AAA substitute legislation in the senate.

With many members of the senate agriculture committee retaining their doubts as to the constitutionality of the new soil conservation subsidy bill, they nevertheless voted 15 to 2 to send the measure to the floor.

They deferred until tomorrow a decision whether to incorporate in their report a statement by Senator Thomas (D. Okla.) declaring that the "agricultural problem is a monetary problem." Chairman Smith (D. S. C.) said "I rather think it will be included."

On the house floor, Representative Treadway (R. Mass.) assailed Wallace for a radio speech yesterday, declaring that "any public official who makes a statement which calls a supreme court decision a legalized steal ought to be impeached."

Smiling over the attack at his press conference was the observation that "it looks like I'm in danger." Wallace disclosed that under the new farm program, the administration hoped to remove 30,000,000 acres from intensive cultivation.

The agriculture secretary also said that if the new legislation were enacted within 30 days, he believed an effective production control program could be placed in operation for 1936 crops.

Wallace declared agriculture department experts were working, as well as treasury and justice department officials, on a plan to recover for the government $200,000,000 in AAA processing taxes ordered returned to processors by the supreme court in its five millers' decision, but said agreement had not yet been reached on procedure.

It was his reference to the refund of those taxes as "the greatest legalized steal in history" that aroused Treadway's ire today.

"The president ought to begin cleaning out the cabinet from Wallace up or down," the Massachusetts representative declared amid Republican applause.

He asserted Wallace should "take a hint from the cabinet, a walk would be too slow." Democratic representatives made no immediate reply.

Discipline Tighter At Joliet Prison

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 29.—(P)—Despite the fact that Richard Loeb was slain in Stateville penitentiary yesterday with a contraband razor, Warden Joseph E. Ragen declared today that discipline is tighter than before he arrived.

Repeating a statement made when criticized over a fatal prison yard stabbing some weeks ago, the warden said:

"The first day I was here, we picked up two bucketfuls of knives. We are still picking them. Conditions when I arrived were very bad, almost putrid."

"The previous administration was very lax. We were just getting things straightened out when this happened."

Ragen took over the rule of the two prisons here on Sept. 15, succeeding Warden Frank D. Whipp.

Airline Pilot Is Killed In Forced Landing

Five Passengers Of Huge Plane Only Slightly Bruised

Denton, Tex., Jan. 29.—(P)—A forced landing in a snowstorm fatally injured Pilot Ted Kincannon of American Airlines today and shook up his five passengers. The plane, southbound from Chicago, struck a clump of trees in coming down southeast of here.

The passengers were slightly out and bruised. The list given out by the airlines office identified them as: John Schultz, (care Fanchon and Marco) New York.

M. P. Youker, Dallas.

T. P. Malloy, Shreveport, La.

George Rice, San Antonio.

William Littlewood, chief engineer of American Airlines, Chicago.

Kincannon, who suffered an injury over the left eye and a fracture of the right leg, died in an ambulance taking him to Frisco, Tex.

W. T. Byrum, in whose ambulance Kincannon died, said the plane was badly smashed, with one wing tangled in the trees at the edge of a plowed field near Little Elm, 18 miles southeast of here. Apparently the pilot had attempted to set the eight-passenger (Vultee) ship down in the field and part of it caught on the trees, Byrum asserted.

The heavy snowstorm limited visibility to a few hundred feet.

109 Manchoukuoan Soldiers Rebel; Kill Jap Officers

Revolters Cross Into Soviet Territory; Interned By Officials

Moscow, Jan. 29.—(P)—The official Soviet News Agency Tass reported from Khabarovsk tonight that detachment of 109 Manchoukuoan soldiers, rebelling against Japanese occupation of Manchuria, crossed into the Soviet territory after killing four Japanese officers.

The Manchoukuoans, headed by Lieut. Ho Gin She, asked for refuge and were interned, the dispatch added.

The account did not give the name of the place where the revolted soldiers were held, but said there was a battle in the barracks during which the Japanese were slain.

The detachment crossed the border in the Godevok region, the exact location of which was not stated.

Soviet authorities took possession of the arms of the interned men, which included two machine-guns and 115 rifles, Tass reported.

Soviet dispatches from Ulan Bator, capital of the outer Mongolia Peoples Republic, said six Manchoukuoan soldiers crossed into Mongolian territory three days ago, fired on a Mongolian border post and retreated across the frontier after an hour and a half fight in which there were no casualties.

Previously, dispatches said, Japanese and Manchoukuoan soldiers appeared on various parts of the Mongolian frontier and removed border signs.

Plan Vote On Air School Transfer

Washington, Jan. 29.—(P)—A Senate vote tomorrow on the bill to transfer the army air corps school from Chanute Field, Ill., to Denver appeared likely tonight as the Senate prepared to resume debate on the proposal.

At the same time the House committee on military affairs will resume hearings on a similar bill, introduced by Representative Lawrence Lewis, of Denver, with members of the army investigating board who recommended the transfer schedule to testify.

The Illinois senators launched an attack upon the Senate bill Monday and Senator Dieterich (D-Ill.) said he would resume his fight tomorrow to retain Chanute Field at Rantoul, Ill.

Sensors Costigan and Adams, of Colorado, authors of the Senate bill, said they would base their final arguments for the transfer upon the findings of the army board of investigators and the Senate committee on military affairs.

Both groups recommended the transfer to Denver after 86 cities had been surveyed as prospective sites.

REFAY LOANS

St. Louis, Jan. 29.—(P)—Missouri and Western Illinois farmers have repaid a third of the drought loans made them by the government, John M. Crebs, acting regional director of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Association said today.

The loans were made without security during the summer of 1934 and last spring and totaled $2,300,000 to 22,000 farmers.

ACCEPTS PASTORATE

DuQuoin, Ill., Jan. 29.—(P)—The Rev. William B. Welte left today to become pastor of St. Luke's Evangelical church in St. Louis. The minister has served the First Evangelical church here for 18 years.

ITALY WOULD REVIVE TRADE WITH AMERICA

Paper Says Italians Will Remember Her Friends

By A. E. Stuntz
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Rome, Jan. 29.—(P)—Leaders of Italian industry are anxious to revive a trade mission to the United States which failed last year, informed persons said tonight.

Shortly before this disclosure, an apparently authoritative hint was given that Italy, because of league sanctions, will look to the Americas for her future raw materials and commerce.

An editorial in Premier Mussolini's own newspaper, Popolo D'Italia, warned the sanctionists they could expect Italy to look toward "the vast raw material resources" of North and South America.

The United States, continued the editorial, refused to declare an oil embargo against this country because of resentment against British "imperial interference" in the African war.

Italy will remember her friends, the paper said, and between her and the Republics of America, including the United States, "the financial and economic ties can never pre-suppose political interference."

American objections to Italian quota proposals killed the former talks by an Italian trade mission observers pointed out that the American neutrality policy would hinder any attempt to form an agreement now but they link the mission idea with the Popolo D'Italia's editorial.

League sanctions, it was asserted by authoritative sources, have strengthened instead of weakened Italy's gold resources. Despite the cost of the war, these circles added, the country's gold position is better now than it was in 1934.

No exact figures were given on the exportation of gold. Bankers pointed out, however, that the public has given the government roughly 2,000,000,000 lire in gold, some of it in the form of wedding rings and other jewelry.

A brief war communiqué said, "nothing of note on either front."

Protection of childhood has been started. The obligation to protect old age still lies ahead. The program of unemployment and old age pensions shall be solved in spite of past neglect and despite recent well-meant but unworkable makeshift legislation.

First of all, the program must be sound, legal and on a non-partisan basis. Soil conservation principles, flood control, a sound national land use policy, and tariff protection on a basis of equality with industry are prime points.

The New Deal record:

Instead of effecting permanent solution of major problems, the administration has created new problems. This delays recovery. Instead of accepting criticism, New Dealers resent it—imputing false motives to critics.

The Supreme Court:

The court's outlawing of certain measures was proved a boon to the nation's economic life. Business picked up after the invalidating of NRA. It had fallen off after NRA's passage.

Civil Service:

A new and better service must be built, more trained employees installed, merit and qualifications recognized. The spoils system must go.

Alfred E. Smith
Wants Roosevelt
To Answer Him

Refuses To Be Dislodged
From His Attacking
Position

New York, Jan. 29.—(P)—Standing on "the record," Alfred E. Smith refused to be dislodged tonight from his attacking position against the New Deal and President Roosevelt.

In a barred retort to Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Smith held that Robinson's reply to his American Liberty League address was no reply at all and tersely shaped the issue by saying:

"As I said in my speech at the Liberty League dinner, there is only one man who should try to answer me. The implication was pointed directly at the president.

Smith, whose address in Washington Saturday night served notice of a "walk" unless the New Deal toned down its "Socialistic" tendencies, replied sarcastically today to "Poor Joe's" answer to his challenge and asserted the senator had "stumbled" over a "canned speech."

Robinson's statements, delivered in a radio broadcast last night, had for its text: "The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau."

In his reply, Robinson charged Smith with a "turn coat" and quoted back Smith's record to show Smith once advocated many things now being done by the New Deal.

"Its purpose," Smith replied in turn, "was to becloud the issue, and while I won't reply to him I want the issue kept clear."

Smith, however, had a few words to say by old "Friend Joe," who was his running mate in the 1928 presidential campaign.

"I was an unhappy warrior to hear him read off a speech over which he stumbled so that I felt sure it was canned and did not come from the heart of the Joe Robinson that I have known."

NOT A CANDIDATE

Chicago, Jan. 29.—(P)—Charles S. Deneen, former Republican United States Senator, today appeared before a group of county central committee-men and denied he was a possible candidate for the senatorial nomination.

"I come not as a candidate nor to speak for any candidate," Deneen said, "but to speak on party conditions and policies, to urge a legislative program to meet existing conditions in harmony with constitutional provisions and American traditions."

SCHOOLS REMAIN CLOSED

Moweaqua, Ill., Jan. 29.—(P)—Discovery of a new case of scarlet fever in a third grade pupil today delayed reopening of schools closed a week working.

Moweaqua schools closed a week ago with the spread of an epidemic which cost one life, Charles Pearn, 8, became ill today.

Governor Landon's Kansas Day Speech In Brief By A. P.

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 29.—(P)—Here, in brief, is what Gov. Alf M. Landon said tonight, in his Kansas Day address, about national subjects and issues.

The constitution:

Powerful forces are trying to convince the people the constitution is not their charter of human liberties. Should they succeed, the government would become a source of oppression. The constitution is not an obstacle to progress—it is the balance wheel of progress.

The coming political campaign:

In the forthcoming national election, the nation confronts the most fateful decisions of the generation.

National finances:

A nation will survive to correct its political mistakes. If an unsound financial program is coupled with such mistakes, however, the nation faces destruction.

Relief:

The country needs a cheaper, simpler, more responsible relief administration. Politics has entered in. Many needy have gone without adequate aid because of the relief funds going to administration. Hence, if there is to be no hunger, the relief administration must be purged of waste and politics.

Old age pensions:

Protection of childhood has been started. The obligation to protect old age still lies ahead. The program of unemployment and old age pensions shall be solved in spite of past neglect and despite recent well-meant but unworkable makeshift legislation.

First of all, the program must be sound, legal and on a non-partisan basis. Soil conservation principles, flood control, a sound national land use policy, and tariff protection on a basis of equality with industry are prime points.

ASKS CONGRESS FOR FUNDS TO PAY VET BONUS

President Roosevelt Sends Letter To Speaker Byrns

Washington, Jan. 29.—(P)—President Roosevelt today asked congress for $2,249,178,474 to meet expenses of the bonus payment act.

In a letter to Speaker Byrns the president asked the appropriation of $2,237,000,000 to establish an adjusted service certificate fund to provide payment of the face value of the certificates authorized under the act passed Monday over his veto.

There was nothing in the letter about new taxes to raise the money.

He proposed appropriating $5,500,000 for expenses of the veterans administration and $6,678,375, for expenses of the treasury in administering the law.

The absence of any tax request indicated that for the present, at least, the administration would borrow to meet the cost of the bonus. Since Mr. Roosevelt has said the bonds will not be ready for distribution until July, the greater part of the expense will fall in the next fiscal year, leaving ample time to raise new funds. Secretary Morgenthau has said the borrowing will be "orthodox."

The white house simply announced the transmission of the letter to the speaker and made public the amounts asked of congress to carry out the full payment law.

There was no other comment except to say that the president had also transmitted a letter to the speaker from the budget bureau explaining the estimates.

Senator Borah Is Seeking Support
Of N. Y. Delegates

Will Make Two Campaign
Appearances In State Before
Convention

New York, Jan. 29.—(P)—A bitter struggle for delegates to the Republican national convention shaped up in New York state tonight as the aftermath to Senator William E. Borah's address here last night calling upon "rank and file" party support.

Senator Borah's first eastern appearance as a Republican presidential possibility will be followed by two other campaign appearances, it was learned, to drive deeper the wedge between party factions demanding, on one side, and uninstructed delegation, and on the other delegates pledged to Borah.

At some future date, he is to speak in upstate New York and following that is to return to New York City for a final mass rally in Madison Square Garden.

This program, and Borah's denunciation of "back room" manipulations in determination of a presidential nominee, led many Republicans of both "Progressive" and "old guard" allegiance to predict freely that New York state would be made the campaign battle ground on which the issue of uninstructed delegations would be fought out.

While Borah passed over "for the present," any specific pronouncement relative to his candidacy, Republican "Progressives" accepted his appearance as a clear announcement, and as consent for a campaign to win delegates.

Mrs. Ruth Laird
Sent To Prison

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Jan. 29.—(P)—Mrs. Ruth Laird, 34, was sentenced to one to 14 years in the women's reformatory at Dwight by Circuit Judge W. Joe Hill today for the ax-wounding of her sister, Margaret Cummins, 17.

Mrs. Laird, a widow, had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder when she was arraigned on Jan. 14. She admitted she struck her sister with an ax after a dispute over attending church on the night of Dec. 18.

A physician, Dr. S. A. Thompson, told the court the girl, still a patient in a hospital, "in all probability will recover." She suffered a fractured skull.

An unsuccessful plea for probation for Mrs. Laird was made by her two brothers, the Rev. John C. Cummins, pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle at Princeton, Ind., and Matison Cummins of Mt. Vernon.

WATER RISING

Johnston City, Ill., Jan. 29.—(P)—A delay of four hours to make repairs on a bailing equipment allowed flood waters in the Old Ben coal mine to rise three inches today.

But despite this discouraging rise to miners fighting to save from destruction the mine which is the town's major industry, plans continued to drop bentonite clay down drill holes behind broken seals, through which the water from abandoned nearby workings seeped.

The clay is packed in 4 by 12 inch cardboard boxes. Each box holds 71 pounds.

CLUB DIVIDED

Freeport, Ill., Jan. 29.—(P)—A group styling itself the "Regular Young Peoples' Democratic Club of Stephen County" was organized today and pledged support to the state ticket headed by Dr. Herman Bundesen, Chicago, and others endorsed at a recent gathering of the Democratic State Central Committee.

The "Young Peoples' Democratic Club," from which the group organized today broke away, previously had endorsed the candidacy of Gov. Henry Horner for re-election.

Richard Loeb's Slayer Tells Own Story How He Killed Thrill Murderer

By William C. Conway Associated Press Staff Writer

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 29.—(P)—Richard Loeb's slayer told his own grisly story today of how he fought and killed the 1924 "thrill murderer" in a small, steamy shower room of Stateville penitentiary yesterday.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of homicide.

Day accused Loeb of persistent abnormal advances. The slayer admitted he made the appointment by which the two met yesterday in what Loeb called his "private bath," but claimed it was Loeb who possessed the razor and menaced him with it.

Telling the story of their fierce battle in all its bloody details, Day's statement said:

"I grabbed the razor . . . I slashed at him. Blood flew in my face . . . He got me by the throat. Steam was in my eyes, but I kept slashing. He sank into a sitting position.

"His eyes were big and staring. He lunged at me with everything he had. His hands were clenched like claws. I slashed at him some more, and kept on slashing until he fell, mumbling.

"I heard laughter, or a groan. Loeb stood straight up. He knocked me down . . . He fumbled with the key and ran out."

Erotic sex practices of imprisoned men were at the bottom of the sordid story, Day claimed Loeb, sent to prison in 1924 after he and Nathan Leopold, Jr., confessed murdering Bobby Franks, 14, pursued him with offers of money and prison favors.

The 30 year old Loeb, son of a wealthy Chicago family, offered to get Day an easy clerical job and claimed to have influence inside the penitentiary, the account said.

Day's story was made public by A. L. Bowen, State Director of Public Welfare, as he launched an official investigation of prison conditions.

The jury recommended that Day, who refused to tell his own story as the first official investigation was launched, be held to the Will county grand jury.

Authorities said the jury's verdict was the usual one in cases of outright murder, but the jury's report found that Loeb, partner of Nathan Leopold, Jr., in one of 1924's most sensational crimes, died in a fight with the younger convict.

Simultaneously an official statement was issued as to what preceded yesterday afternoon's bloody battle in a prison bathroom, from which Loeb staggered to die of 56 razor wounds.

It said there was hostility of long standing between the 30 year old Loeb and the convict held for his death.

The official version of Loeb's death, a 2,000 word statement issued by A. L. Bowen, State Director of Public Welfare, said it was Day who made the appointment which brought them together in the little shower-room.

"Loeb had bothered Day since June," said Bowen.

"Last Friday, Loeb threatened Day in the offices of the prison chaplain."

Then the report set out Day's own story of the fatal battle, given to prison authorities, apparently, shortly after Loeb died, despite the efforts of seven doctors, at 3:05 p. m. yesterday.

Sanctionists Are Extending Boycott

Geneva, Jan. 29.—(P)—Some sanctionist nations are extending their "buying nothing from Italy" boycott to the so-called "deserter states," it developed today. These are Austria, Hungary and Albania.

A session of a committee of experts of the league of nations on sanctions was informed, for instance, that Great Britain is purchasing material from Yugoslavia it hitherto bought from Hungary.

The committee decided that most members of the league are applying sanctions against Italy unsatisfactorily, but it will send out questionnaires to determine Italy's trade trends.

Ask Talmadge To Enter Race For
U. S. Presidency

Some Democrats Appear To Be Dissatisfied With
FDR Administration

Macon, Ga., Jan. 29.—(P)—Governor Eugene Talmadge, persistent foe of the New Deal, was invited to become a presidential candidate today by Democrats dissatisfied with the Roosevelt administration at a "grass roots" rally here.

Permission was asked of the Georgia executive to enter his name in presidential preferential primaries after the meeting adopted a platform calling for defeat of Mr. Roosevelt and demanding that the constitution be upheld.

The platform also "reaffirmed" planks in the "unfilled" 1932 Democratic national platform.

The audience, composed chiefly of Georgians greeted with a vociferous demonstration the invitation to Talmadge. In the partly filled city auditorium was a sprinkling of representatives from the 17 southern and border states asked to send delegates.

The governor, who had just finished a speech predicting "this crazy administration in Washington is going to end soon," declined to comment. "I'm smoking a cigar," he parried questioners.

Recently he said in Washington, he would enter a preferential primary in Georgia, provided the State Democratic Executive committee decides upon that method of selecting delegates to the national convention.

The Talmadge-controlled committee has not yet acted. It may call a primary or name delegates, either instructed or uninstructed.

The rally was called by Talmadge and John Henry Kirby, wealthy Houston, Texas, lumber man and chairman of the southern committee to uphold the constitution, who said its purpose was to crystallize opposition to the renomination of Mr. Roosevelt.

Italians Have Pressed Drive
50 More Miles

Wadara Is Captured After Dawn Attack On The Ethiopians

By Mark Barron

With the Italian Southern Army at Dolo, Jan. 26.—(P)—Vin Mogadiscio, Italian Somali, Jan. 29.—Italy's hard-driving campaigners have pressed 50 miles farther inland to take Wadara in a dawn attack.

This post, around which Ras Desta Denta, the Ethiopian commander, had prepared for a last stand in the event of the capture of Neghelli, is 50 miles north of Neghelli, taken last week.

(Wadara is but approximately 250 statute miles almost due south of Addis Ababa but a forbidding terrain lies between them. Rome dispatches yesterday said the Fascist southern army had swung east from Neghelli toward Harar, Ethiopia's second largest city, more than 300 miles north-east of Neghelli.)

Gen. Bergonelli's troops moved overnight from Neghelli to take Wadara. The attack took about 50 Ethiopian lives.

Although the retreating Ethiopians fired only supply magazine in the post, the Italians captured a second one containing guns, ammunition and supplies.

Simultaneous with this northern advance, the Italian command said the Fascist blackshirt foresters division is pushing along the Dawa Parma toward the Kenya colony (British) border and thus eliminating a possible Ethiopian source of supplies from the colony.

Casualties of the defending warriors were large as the Italians advanced past Sadei, then took Malca Ghedi and the oasis of Malca Murri. Hundreds of camels and cattle were taken.

One Italian officer said two airplanes were observed flying over the Kenya border apparently signalling Fascist movements to the Ethiopians.

Officers Elected
At Farm Meeting

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 29.—(P)—Officers and directors elected today by the Illinois Agricultural Association's cooperative groups.

Illinois Agricultural Auditing Association—Paul Harker, Peoria county; R. L. Voorhes, Jersey county, re-elected to Board of Directors.

Illinois Farm Bureau Serum Association—Edgar Walters, Rock Island county, president; Russell McKee, Marshall-Putnam counties, vice-president; directors, Ray Cunningham, Vermillion county; J. W. Gillespie, Lawrence county; W. H. Stockley, La Salle county; Fred Davis, Sangamon county; K. T. Smith, Greene county.

Illinois Milk Producers' Association—Marion Stubbfield, McLean county, director. All other directors were re-elected.

FATHER WILL KEEP SON

Chickasha, Okla., Jan. 29.—(P)—Bobby Bonnell, 10, will remain with his father Dr. W. L. Bonnell, Chickasha, District Judge Will Linn ruled today.

The judge's decision ended a three-year long struggle between the parents, Dr. Bonnell and Mrs. Clara Dawson for custody of the boy.

Mrs. Bonnell is now the wife of a Springfield, Ill., engineer.

ALF M. LANDON GIVES VIEWS ON U. S. PROBLEMS

Says New Deal Is De- laying Return Of Prosperity

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 29.—(P)—Gov. Alf M. Landon, asserting New Deal mismanagement and waste are delaying the return of prosperity, said tonight what the country "really needs is better housekeeping."

Outlining his views on national problems for the first time since mention of his name as a Republican presidential possibility, the man hailed by his proponents as the "Kansas budget balancer," declared: "The clinching proof of the New Deal's failure is that almost as many persons are out of work today as there were when it first set up shop in 1933. x x x A nation will survive to correct its political mistakes. But if an unsound financial program is coupled with them, the nation faces destruction."

Gov. Landon addressed a banquet climaxed the annual Kansas Day celebration—this year the diamond anniversary of Kansas' admission to the Union. The speech was broadcast on a National (N.B.) network.

His prepared address confined itself strictly to national problems without reference to personalities or candidates for 1936.

Gov. Landon warned of "powerful forces trying to convince our people that the constitution is not their charter of human liberties" and charged the Works Progress Administration was "organized so that relief might be handled in familiar 'pork barrel' fashion."

The governor emphasized a belief that Republicans "should go into the campaign prepared to be as fair in conceding the good points of the opposition as we are courageous to point out what we consider the errors."

"But," he said, x x x "the administration has presented no permanent solution of our major problems. On the contrary it has created many new problems and its gross over-centralization of power reflects either ignorance or indifference in regard to our federal system of government. All this in my judgment is actually delaying the return of prosperity."

"Unfortunately, now as always there are people today calling themselves liberal who regard any suggestion of economy as reactionary. They seem to think willingness to throw other people's money around without any consideration of value is a peculiar sign of a pure heart."

Roosevelt Advised
To Postpone Action
On New Tax Issue

Influential Congressmen Discuss Tax Question
Privately

Washington, Jan. 29.—(P)—A suggestion that President Roosevelt be strongly advised to postpone the politically bothersome issue of new taxes until next session—after the election—today was discussed privately among influential members of Congress.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the House ways and means committee, speaking publicly, told newspapermen he believed as an individual that a lengthy study, aimed at presentation of a rounded tax bill next year, was advisable.

Already engaged in an investigation of the fiscal predicament created by payment of the bonus and the invalidation of AAA, the administration itself gave no sign of whether it would heed such counsel.

In fact it kept its congressional lieutenants completely in the dark as to the trend of its thought and in addition indicated several weeks at least, must elapse before a decision is reached and made known.

"We're waiting for them to complete their studies," said Chairman Harrison of the Senate Finance committee, a leader in the successful Senate drive for the payment of the bonus. "We have not been consulted yet and I don't know what the result will be."

Chairman Doughton, in whose committee such legislation would have to originate, said likewise that he could not predict the outcome.

After expressing himself similarly, Speaker Byrns added:

"I'm not going to oppose any tax bill that's necessary."

Deserters Surrendered

Dixon, Ill., Jan. 29.—(P)—Douglas Emerson, 20, a private in Company A of the Second United States Infantry attached to Fort Sheridan, surrendered to Sheriff Ward Miller last night and admitted deserting. The sheriff announced today.

Sheriff Miller said Emerson confessed deserting January 20 and stealing an automobile in Chicago. When the car's radiator froze while he was napping at the side of a road, Emerson decided to give himself up, Miller said.

The license of the car was issued to Chester T. Moore of Plainfield, Miller prepared to return Emerson to Fort Sheridan.

"They That Take The Sword"

In a shower room of Stateville Penitentiary, two desperate men fought a bloody battle. One was the kidnaper and murderer, Richard Loeb; the other a young Chicago criminal who had been "sent up" for robbing a service station. The younger man, James Day, fought with a desperation born of fear for the sanctity of his body. He literally cut to pieces the older and stronger man, and thus ended a life that had come to grief through its own violence.

Richard Loeb is a fitting example of the warning that "they that take the sword shall perish by the sword." It was not a sword, but a heavy, taped chisel, he and Nathan Leopold used to murder 14-year-old Bobby Franks on May 21, 1934. The crime was then termed the most violent and brutal of the century. Its motive was merely the desire for a thrill. The two young men, highly educated and steeped in psychology and science, sought to commit the "perfect" crime.

The kidnapped young Franks on his way home from school, murdered him, and secreted his body in a culvert in a forest preserve. Evidence brought out in the killing of Loeb indicates that the vices manifested in the slaying of young Franks were continued in his own life.

Like a trip-hammer the law against murder and violence has been working through the twelve intervening years, and violence has pursued this man and overtaken him like an avenging Nemesis. The Franks murder was far from a "perfect" crime, and the same tragedy that does the steps of all criminals has followed in its wake.

The "thrill" a slayer had cheated the gallows, but for what? He drew a sentence of 99 years for murder and life for kidnapping. His own father died of a broken heart. The father of his partner in crime, Leopold, lived only long enough to see his son placed behind the bars. Jacob Franks, father of the slain boy, lived only four years after the tragedy. Today the boy's mother is ill, and she has never recovered from the shock of the terrible fate that overtook her son.

When men deliberately choose the way of violence, they must expect to reap its rewards, more violence and suffering. "The wages of sin is death." The cry that came from a member of the Loeb family on receipt of the news of the Stateville killing is typical of the walls which always come from human hearts in the face of continued tragedy, "We have suffered enough."

The Farm Outlook

Farm families in Illinois will have a better income in 1936 than for several years, delegates to a recent Farm Outlook conference held in Winchester were told. The prices of things the farmer will have to buy will not decrease, but may increase somewhat. However, the prices he will get for his own products are expected to remain good.

In the price advance which took place from the spring of 1933 to the spring of 1935, Illinois farmers fared somewhat better than did farmers in the United States as a whole. The index number of prices received by Illinois farmers rose from 48 percent of the 1910-1914 average in March, 1933, to 122 percent in April, 1935, while in the same period the United States index rose from 55 to 111 percent of the prewar average. The difference was put primarily to the great importance of corn, oats, and hogs in Illinois. During 1934 and early 1935 prices of these three products rose much more than did most farm products. Subsequently the Illinois index has declined more than the United States index, the November index (1910-1914 = 100) being 106 for Illinois and 108 for the United States.

During 1936 farm prices of livestock may be expected to be high in relation to grains. A marked shift between grain and livestock prices occurred during 1935, livestock prices making further advances and grain prices declining. Thus the November, 1935, Illinois farm price of hogs was 101 percent and of beef cattle 98 percent of the 1921-1929 November average, while a year earlier they stood at 95 and 86 percent respectively.

Cash income available to Illinois farm families after meeting farm production expenses probably will be higher in 1936 than in any year since 1930. The tendencies in 1935 toward increased farm-production costs were somewhat balanced by the improved situation in regard to farm taxes, loans, and interest. Some scaling-down of debts, considerable refinancing of remaining indebtedness on a longer amortization basis, and reduced interest rates have lessened farmers' yearly debt payments. The net result in 1936 will be an increase in income available for family living and farm improvements.

In 1935 the cash incomes from farm production were supplemented by earnings of family members employed in nonagricultural industries. This will continue and may increase in 1936.

Illinois farm women have continued to contribute to cash income by sale of poultry, eggs, dairy products, fruits, vegetables, home-baked foods, and other articles in women's markets and by direct delivery to homes. This practice may be expected to continue thru 1936.

The extent to which the increase in available cash will be devoted to farm family living will vary widely from family to family. Household inventories, depleted during the depression, appear to have been somewhat restored by increased purchasing in 1935.

SO THEY SAY

A man who is good enough to shed his blood for his country is good enough to be given a square deal afterward. More than that no man is entitled to, and less than that no man should have.

—President Roosevelt, quoting Theodore Roosevelt.

"Federal" means union of states, and ours is not a union of states. Our government was formed by the people as a whole. It is "national."

—Representative Sol Bloom, New York, who is annoyed when people refer to "federal" government.

We've got to make it smart to drive safely, instead of smart to be reckless.

—P. G. Hoffman, chairman, Automobile Manufacturers' Association safety committee.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Politicians Ponder Whether Liberty League Is Asset or Liability to Forces Fighting Roosevelt . . . How Massing of Wealth Will Be Regarded by "Common Man" Stirs Guessing Contest . . . And How Much of His Old "Drag" Does Al Smith Retain?

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—The American Liberty League's dinner, starring Al Smith, has started a perplexing argument among the politically minded element here which only time will decide.

Is the league an asset or a liability in the effort to defeat Roosevelt this year? Or is it merely a negligible factor, giving J. Edgar Hoover a good job and some wealthy men some fun spending their money?

Never before have the actual chief owners and managers of the nation's industrial and financial wealth publicly banded in such fashion to fight openly at the side of their lawyers and other representatives in a national political campaign.

In the past they have generally been content to stay in the background and pay the bills.

What Will Voter Think?

The question debated here is whether the average voter who knows that 40 or 50 billion dollars of wealth was represented at the recent banquet will feel that this effort bodes him good or whether he will instinctively distrust it.

League speakers all stressed the importance of their program to the common man, and Smith went especially heavy on it from the time he announced himself as speaking "for the great rank and file of the American people, to which I belong."

League chiefs think the prestige and wealth of its directors and backmen will go far toward lifting Roosevelt and that the attitude of the nation's big employers is bound to affect employee votes.

Point to Massed Wealth

On the other hand, administration politicians generally sighed with relief after Smith finished his speech and opined that if that was the best the opposition could do, "we've got 'em." They pointed to the banquet galaxy, which included Winthrop Aldrich of Chase National Bank; Colby M. Chester, of General Foods; John W. Davis, of the Morgan interests; President Robert V. Fleming, of the American Bankers' Association; Chief Lobbyist Gadsden, of the power companies; two of the Guggenheims; Andrew Mellon's handy man, David A. Reed; Ernest T. Weir, and other militant foes of organized labor; and at least 20 members of the du Pont family.

The New Dealers promised wide distribution of copies of Senator Schwellenbach's speech attacking income tax operations of Pierre du Pont and John Raskob and flaying those who control the league. They decided, in short, that the league and its tactics will be a big help in re-electing Roosevelt.

Ponder Over Al's "Drag"

Dispassionate observers can't be sure. They wish they could gauge the effect of Al's broadcast speech—as he stood there his white tie askew, amid outbursts of friendly laughter at his East Side accent from many of those who fought him eight years ago.

Would-be analysts of political trends would like to know whether the tag of

"socialism" which Al pinned on the New Deal is a moth-eaten bogey in the popular mind or whether it is still as effective as it was in 1928, when Hoover said Smith's position on power was "socialism."

The question debated here now is whether the fact that Al was saying it made it a politically effective speech.

In other words, whether Al retains anything like his old popular following.

New Camp Doctor Has Little to Do

Medical Officer at Camp Finds the Boys Healthy; None in Hospital

Camp Jacksonville with its two hundred enrollees has a new physician, but his duties thus far are not strenuous. On taking charge of the medical supervision at the camp this month, Dr. P. J. Jasinski found health conditions to be excellent.

Not a one of the two hundred young men is in the hospital at the present time. The outdoor life and regular habits of the boys probably accounts for their excellent state of health. Aside from a few colds, the enrollees have succeeded in dodging most of the common ailments this winter.

Dr. Jasinski came to Camp Jacksonville from Springfield, succeeding Dr. I. Schuman who was transferred to Camp Columbia, located one mile from the base of Grand Coulee Dam, Washington.

EFFICIENT COUNTY CLERK

Hill and Randolph Streets
Champaign, Illinois
January 26, 1936

Journal-Courier,
Jacksonville, Illinois

Dear Sir:

For several months I have been engaged in a study of local government in various counties in Illinois. During the course of this study I had occasion to work several weeks in the various county offices in Morgan county, particularly the county clerk's office.

Without in any way disparaging the officials of other counties in which I worked, I can say that I was particularly impressed with the superior quality of the county officials in Morgan county. I was especially well impressed with the thorough understanding which Mr. Fred W. Brookhouse possessed of the complex duties of county clerk and the efficient, unassuming and courteous manner in which he supplied me with all the information which I requested.

I am writing this letter because I appreciate the cooperation given me by Morgan county officials, and because I am interested in efficient public service. I thought the voters of Morgan county might be interested to know what an outsider thought of their county officials.

Very truly yours,

H. K. ALLEN.

Graduate student at the University of Illinois.

Editor Journal and Courier:

A short time ago I read a letter in this column condemning the farmer for using the tractor. I beg to differ with the writer of that letter, Mr. Leeper. In beginning I will say that I am not interested in the sale of tractors or the fuel they burn.

Some seem to think the Lord intended the farmer to be a slave, to feed the world and dig it out by hard labor. I owned and operated a farm for forty years and know the game from A to Z. As a boy I plowed many days with a team of horses and walking plow, hopping close, fighting gnats out of my eyes and bumble bees off my back, or stopping once in a while to turn a snake out of the path. They don't bother you when using the tractor.

I could go out before breakfast and plow more with a tractor than I could all day with a team and 12-inch plow when I was a boy. The last ten years on the farm I owned a tractor. My troubles practically ended. Many times the tractor put me over the top, getting my corn planted from ten to twelve days sooner than would have been possible with horses. Often times in a late season the horses were soft and could not stand prolonged work. The tractor keeps going day and night.

Why, then, put the brakes on the farmer? Why not turn the factories back to hand labor? Why not drive horses instead of cars and save the lives of sixty thousands persons who are killed annually by automobiles?

I am not advocating such drastic changes. But why should the farmer use horse power, the professional man the motor? Both are trying to save time.

I have mentioned only a few of the benefits of the tractor. It is a great help in saving wood, grinding feed, filling silos, etc.

Why put the brakes on the farmer? Give the old folks a pension and the farmers a tractor.

G. S. Beckman,
South Jacksonville

Immortal Friendship

Theme of Photoplay, "Three Musketeers"

"ALL FOR ONE, and one for all!"

From the lips of his fighting heroes in "The Three Musketeers," Alexandre Dumas, in an inspired moment, shouted the perfect slogan for devoted comradeship—as fine a summation of loyalty and consecration as ever was coined.

For millions of readers it has chimed in the mind after they have folded the covers of the book, and it rings again with high thrill of challenge and peril in RKO Radio's picturization of the tale, as sketched by d'Artagnan, Athos, Porthos and Aramis, respectively played by Walter Abel, Paul Lukas, Moroni Olsen and Onslow Stevens as they set forth on their great adventure.

The mutually protective fidelity of the "Musketeers" has probably influenced more youngsters the world round than all the academic essays on friendship ever written, and it is because of this central theme of selfless devotion that the romantic tale has been considered admirable entertainment for juveniles as well as adults.

All the glamour of undying loyalties, love affairs, thrilling roller duels, and high court intrigues have been preserved in the historic Dumas' novel.

Heather Angel, Margot Grahame, Rosamond Pinchoy, Ian Keith, Miles Mander, Murray Kinell, John Qualen, Ralph Forbes and Nigel de Bruiler are in the cast.

"The Three Musketeers" was directed by Rowland V. Lee. Cliff Reid supervised. FOX ILLINOIS, Today and Friday.

Use Jam and Jelly to Make Desserts

Preserves Give Dishes Tang of Fruits That Are Out of Season.

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

This time of year, interesting desserts can be made from your own supply of jellies and jams to tide over.

An old-fashioned cake that is particularly delicious uses jelly in the cake batter to produce an unusually fine flavor and tender texture. I used regularly to raid my neighbor's brown cake crock for this when I was ten.

Cetta's Jelly Cake

One cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup butter and other shortening mixed, 1 cup sour milk, 1 cup jelly, 4 eggs, 1 teaspoon soda (Cetta emphasized this when she wrote the recipe), 1 1/2 cups flour (Cetta had it "2 scant cups"), 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cloves.

Save white of one egg for frosting. Cream shortening and beat in sugar, beating until sugar is dissolved. Stir in 1 cup flour and the jelly. Mix and sift remaining flour with salt and spices. Add half to cake mixture, stirring to make smooth. Add eggs well beaten. Mix well and add remaining flour. Dissolve soda in sour milk and add at once to mixture, stirring just enough to mix well.

Turn into an oiled and floured cake pan and bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Cover with boiled frosting made with the white of egg saved for this purpose.

This is Cousin Lou's jelly roll cake. She used to make it for luncheon in the proverbial twinkling of an eye.

Cousin Lou's Jelly Cake

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2-3 cup milk, 1/2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, pinch (1 teaspoon) salt.

Beat eggs until light, beating in sugar and milk. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder and beat into first mixture. Pour into an oiled and floured oblong cake pan. Bake fifteen minutes in a moderate (375 degrees F.) oven. Remove at once from cake pan, turning cake upside down on a damp napkin sprinkled with powdered sugar. Spread with a thick layer of jelly which has been beaten with a fork. Trim off crisp edges and roll up. Wrap the napkin around the roll and let stand until cake is cool. Cut in slices across roll to serve.

Jelly Rice Pudding

One cup jelly, 1 cup rice, 1 cup milk, 1 cup water, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon granulated gelatin.

Put milk, sugar, butter, salt and rice in top of double boiler and bring to the boiling point. Cook over boiling water until rice is tender and dry. Soften gelatin in 1 tablespoon cold water for five minutes and dissolve over boiling water. Add to 1 tablespoon jelly which has been melted and stir carefully into cooked rice.

Turn into mold and let stand on ice for several hours or over night to chill and become firm. Unmold and garnish with remaining jelly. Serve plain or with whipped cream or with a custard sauce, depending on the amount of nourishment the dessert must furnish to balance the meal.

Washington School P.T.A. Holds Interesting Meeting

Dr. R. O. Stoops, superintendent of city schools, addressed the Parent-Teachers association of the Washington school Tuesday afternoon at the regular meeting held at the school. A large attendance of members and an interesting program made the meeting outstanding on the calendar.

Dr. Stoops spoke of "New Horizons in the School". In developing the topic he emphasized a new health program, stating that another nurse is needed, also a dentist and physician, since many pupils are not able to procure the necessary medical attention. He spoke of the new building project as much needed and if carried out will be a wonderful achievement for the schools in the city.

During the program group singing was led by Miss Margaret Wilson. A very comprehensive report of the State Health conference was given by Mrs. E. R. Franklin. Mrs. A. L. Davis, district director spoke of the radio programs on Parent Education which will be given on Saturday, 9-45 a. m. and Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. over W. B.B.M.

Women Voters and University Women Plan for Lecture

Dr. Eugene Staley Widely Known as Teacher and Author of Books

Dr. Eugene Staley, speaker for the joint meeting of the Morgan County League of Women Voters and the Jacksonville Branch of the American Association of University Women to be held Monday night, at eight o'clock at the Congregational church, though not yet thirty, is an experienced teacher and lecturer, having taken an active part in the work of the Williamsstown Institute of Politics at two sessions, and having conducted the summer seminar of the Students' International Union at Geneva.

He is the author of two books, "The History of the Illinois State Federation of Labor," and "War and the Private Investor: A Study in the Relation of International Politics and International Private Investment." Of the latter book, Charles Merz of the New York Times has remarked "A very remarkable book, certain to be recognized at once as the outstanding book on the subject."

In 1934-35 he travelled in Europe, visiting in the course of a whole year's stay all the important capitals of western Europe, continuing extensive investigations into the part played by certain economic factors—particularly foreign capital investments—in the causes of war.

Dr. Staley's subject for the meeting will be, in line with his studies, "International Finance and Neutrality."

Two Suffer Burns Near Jerseyville

Garage Man at CCC Camp is Hurt; Child Scalded

Roy Dawkins who is in charge of the garage at the Piasa erosion camp west of Jerseyville had both hands badly burned Sunday afternoon while he was working on a car at the camp.

It is understood the garage man was using gasoline to clean a part of an automobile and in some way the gasoline ignited. The flames quickly enveloped Dawkins' hands which were saturated with the liquid and inflicted painful injuries. Dawkins extinguished the flames himself by plunging his hands into a mass of ashes which was nearby.

A second victim of burns was Vera Lee Dabbs, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Dabbs of the Ottaville community. The little girl was standing on a stick of wood near the cook stove at her home when the accident occurred. When the wood began to roll from beneath the child, she reached for something to hold to steady herself and grabbed the tea-kettle which was on the stove. Boiling water from the kettle poured over the girl's body, scalding both limbs badly and inflicting smaller burns on her arms.

Local Couple Mark 45th Anniversary of Wedding Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wright Have Quiet Observance at North Main St. Home

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wright quietly observed their forty-fifth wedding anniversary Tuesday at their home, 608 North Main street. The illness of Mr. Wright, who is 80 years of age, prevented any formal celebration of the event. Mrs. Wright is aged 63 years.

Amos Wright and Miss Ollie Gilpin were married Jan. 28, 1891, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Gilpin, in the Litchberry community. They have spent their married life in this county, living most of the time in Jacksonville.

They have four children, Mrs. Nettie Williams, Amos Wright, Jr., Mrs. Hazel Fanning and Jesse Wright, all of this community. They also have sixteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Colic!—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile each day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It stays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour. Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes three good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make yourself "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else, 25¢.

SHERIFF TAKES OUT FISHING LICENSE

Kenneth Woods First to Get Ready for Season

Sheriff Kenneth Woods stamped himself as a true optimist yesterday morning when he stepped up to the counter in County Clerk Brockhouse's office and laid down a half dollar for a 1936 fishing license. The ice is a foot deep over creeks and ponds; snow covers the ground to a depth of several inches, but the sheriff knows it can't last. He is going fishing when the first chance arrives.

Six hundred fishing licenses arrived at the clerk's office ready for the demands of fishermen when the weather warms up. They sell for the same price as heretofore, fifty cents, and are required by all persons more than 21 years old.

The bass season is still open but will do the fishermen no good as it closes on February 28, to open again June 15.

Roodhouse, Rockbridge and Hillview Win Opening Games In Greene County Tournament

Scores Last Night
Hillview 30; Greenfield 19.
Roodhouse 22; Carrollton 19.
Rockbridge 29; Eldred 27.

Games Tonight
7:30—Roodhouse vs. Kane.
8:30—White Hall vs. Patterson.

Roodhouse, Jan. 20.—(P)—With spectators almost hanging on the ceiling seeking accommodations to see the opening round of the Greene County tournament, Hillview, Roodhouse and Rockbridge swept through their first round opponents here tonight to set the stage for the final games of the opening round Thursday night when Roodhouse returns for a battle with Kane, and White Hall, hoped to be one of the finalists, tackles Patterson.

Jumping the gymnasium almost from the opening whistle until the finish, the crowd was one of the largest ever to witness a basketball game in this city. The Roodhouse came through with the brightest performance of the evening to gratify a large crowd in turning back Carrollton 22 to 19, while one of the four year teams, Greenfield, fell by the wayside under an avalanche of baskets tossed in by Hillview's rangy quintet.

Although little gossip concerning the Kane team was available here tonight, the Roodhouse were expecting a tough battle to get into the semi-final round, scheduled for Friday night. Hillview and Rockbridge, by their victories tonight, became semi-finalists, and will play Friday.

Roodhouse and Carrollton battled out the feature of the evening in the second game, when the Roodhouse fought off a threatening Hawk team during the final three periods. Roodhouse led 3-1 at the end of the first quarter, and had a 9 to 8 lead at the end of the first half. Carrollton hung on through the third quarter, which wound up 16-15, with Roodhouse still leading, and then the Roodhouse put on the sport that clinched the game.

Roady, Carrollton ace firer, led the scoring with 13 points, and "Weenie" Holmes, high man for Roodhouse, finished with 12 points.

Hillview and Rockbridge had rather easy times in rolling up their victories. Greenfield extending Hillview a bit more than was anticipated. Hillview scored but two points in the third quarter, but still had a nine point lead, and went on to win by an eight point margin as Greenfield staged a rally.

Rockbridge swept out in front 20 to 6 at the end of the first half of its game with Eldred, and then finished easily to win by a 44-28 score.

Red Burman Will Fight Hank Bath

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(P)—Jack Dempsey came back to Chicago today to sign for a fight.

The old mauler did not sign for Dempsey to do the Chicago stadium's terms for a bout between his "White Hope," Clarence (Red) Burman of Baltimore, and either Billy Treest of Batavia, Ill., or Hank Bath of Fort Morgan, Colo., "White Hope" of his old manager, Jack Kearns, probably with the latter. The bout is tentatively belted for Feb. 14.

Treest belted out a decision over Bath in ten blistering rounds last night at the stadium to earn the bout with Burman. But, he suffered a severely damaged left eye and may not be ready for the Feb. 14 date. Bath, although whipped, won the hearts of the spectators by his courageous battle against Treest. He not only got up off the floor three times, but at the finish was doing a lot of damage to Treest's face with a jarring jab.

Thus, it appears that Chicago instead of New York, will see the meeting between the proteges of the two jacks. They were matched for a six-rounder in New York several weeks ago, but the New York Athletic Commission upset everything by refusing Bath a license.

The New York body had an idea that Bath and Kearns were not in good standing with the California commission, and declined to approve the young Colorado fighter. The Illinois State Athletic Commission, which has a working agreement with the California and New York groups, could find nothing wrong with the tandem of Bath and Kearns and gave the former permission to meet Treest.

New York recently withdrew its objections to Bath.

Joe Lirig, Hull superintendent and coach, who was called upon to express the sentiments of the Pike School Masters toward Poppenbager at the farewell party for him after Hull had won from Barry in an overtime game, declared that Poppenbager is "an A No. 1 fellow, while all the way through."

Coming from the coach of the team whose school was knocked out of first place in the torrid Pike county basketball race, that remark means a lot. Barry beat Hull 25-23 to take the lead, and has played enough games to remain on top in the percentage standing.

Fan Breezes

Cullen B. Sweet, who is stepping into the coaching job left vacant by the resignation of Coach Poppenbager, is really jumping into a tough spot.

Poppenbager, by careful nursing, brought his Barry high team to the top of the Pike county conference before he turned over the keys to the gymnasium to Sweet, in order to accept a position as a straight biology teacher in a Cedar Rapids high school.

"Poppy" was among the top notch coaches of the Pike county league, consistently producing teams that made the best of them get out and hustle. His departure for Cedar Rapids was genuinely regretted by his coaching brothers.

But to get back to Sweet—Barry will lose its star center, Johnson, who we understand, spent his first three years at Kinderhook, on Feb. 6, because of the age limit placed on H. S. athletes. Johnson was hailed as one of the best basketball players in Pike county last year, and has been living up to his reputation at Barry.

Sweet, who graduated from Illinois College last year, made a fine record while at Rockport as a teacher, but didn't have much material with which to work on for a basketball team. He'll have some boys now.

Gene Lirig, Hull superintendent and coach, who was called upon to express the sentiments of the Pike School Masters toward Poppenbager at the farewell party for him after Hull had won from Barry in an overtime game, declared that Poppenbager is "an A No. 1 fellow, while all the way through."

Cy Blanton Has Signed Contract

By Schuyler Altman
Associated Press Staff Writer
Shawnee, Okla., Jan. 20.—(P)—Pittsburgh Pirates pitcher Cy Blanton announced today he has signed a new Pittsburgh Pirates contract, calling for a raise of "more than 100 per cent" and he is "takin' it go."

The rookie pitcher, whose earned run average last season in the National League was 3.00, grinned broadly as he confessed: "I didn't have to study that contract very long before deciding to sign." Pirates salaries are kept secret by the club, but it is understood Blanton received around $5,000 last year.

He is in fine fettle. Most of the fall and winter he spent hunting. He weighs 185 pounds but is certain he will be down to 175 when the first ball is tossed out for the 1938 pennant race. The Pirates camp does not open until March 1 but Blanton will go to San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 15 for preliminary work.

How does the 35 year stack up? Put the Pirates right in the thick of it, Blanton advised.

Chicago and St. Louis are the teams to beat," Blanton ranked the Giants fourth.

Acquisition of Catcher Al Todd by the Pirates from Philadelphia was seen by the pitcher as a big help to Pittsburgh's chances. Blanton considers Todd the league's best receiver.

Monmouth and Rock Island and this far east of his present location at Quincy, declares there is all the difference in the world in the type of basketball played in the northern section and the southern section.

They don't play basketball in Pike county, he declared, pointing out that they follow the Indiana style of fire department play. However, he said he hadn't seen either Hull or Barry in action this year. Hull, incidentally, zipped Coach Frosty England's Perry team in the West Pike tournament 38 to 28.

With Herb Scheffler back in the Illinois College fold, and George Wellborn asserting that he intends to come back here next year, the basketball outlook is pretty good. Scheffler can step in when Louis Laster steps out, and Wellborn can fit in almost any place without a bit of trouble.

Scheffler also may take over a first base job in baseball, and do a bit of gridiron gladiating before he retires from college circles. Reports have it that he is an able performer both on the diamond and gridiron.

Joe Louis Ready To Meet Braddock

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 20.—(P)—Joe Louis, manager of Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock, took a hand in the business of keeping fight fans interested in a fall meeting between Braddock and Joe Louis today when he let fly with a steaming retort to intimations that the brown bomber was not interested in fighting for the title this year. Louis even threatened to cross the Detroit negro off the list of contenders, provided, of course, the reports were true.

A heated statement Louis issued, which hinted the brown bomber might be afraid of Braddock, lost much of its point, however, after Julian Black, one of Louis' managers, said in New York the reports were all wrong.

"It's true we are not pointedly concerned over gaining the title," Black said, in pointing out the negro was doing pretty well by himself with out, "but we are ready for him (Braddock) any time there's a demand."

Louis' statement said there was an inkling "Joe Louis may be afraid to step into the ring with the heavy-weight champion of the world" in the report he would not challenge in 1938.

"If the report is true," he added, "we consider Louis stricken from the list of contenders. A man who he is apparently unwilling to challenge he has eliminated himself."

"We are sure that the boxing commissions of the country will not recognize Louis as the outstanding contender if he does not want to fight for the title. We and they are interested only in real contenders."

Decatur Police Chief Resigns

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 20.—(P)—Chief of Police Jack S. Cooper, under indictment for malfeasance in office, resigned today.

Lieut. Henry W. Schaeffer was appointed to succeed him by the city board of fire and police commissioners which at the same time threatened wholesale dismissals from the force "unless politics is removed from the department."

Cooper was indicted Jan. 11 after he was charged with having failed to press for prosecution of vice and gambling of which he was alleged to have knowledge. He pleaded innocent and posted bond. A trial date has not been set.

TEA AND CRACKERS
Hamilton, N. Y.—(P)—A spot of tea has become an official aid to education at Colgate University. Dr. Donald A. Laird, head of the department of psychology, who has advanced the value of rest periods in industry, applied the principle to his advanced seminar classes. Now in the midst of his four-hour classes he calls time out for tea and crackers.

Work Out Schedule For Big Schedule This Week-End as All Teams Swing Into Action

Murrayville high's colorful Shadows, finalists in the Winchester tournament, will meet here tonight in a double header, inaugurating one of the busiest week-ends in the caging sport the city will see this year. Top notch teams will take the boards in all three city gymnasiums as four local teams swing into action.

Tonight's opener will bring together two of the four outstanding teams that will meet here in the regional tournament to be held on the I. S. D. boards the first week-end in March. The Shadows, although weakened by the loss of several of the players who carried them through to the finals of the sectional tournament at Pittsfield last year, have recovered somewhat from another blow and are expected to be tough customers for the Tigers to handle.

In view of the heavy week-end schedule, special arrangements were made last night to handle the basketball traffic so that spectators could select the high school game of their choice, and still have time to get out to the Illinois School for the Deaf gymnasium for the Illinois College-McKendree game that night.

Illinois School for the Deaf is booked for a double header that night, meeting Alsey in the first game, scheduled to be called at 6:45 p. m., followed by a game with Converse of Springfield, beginning about 7:45. The Illinois-McKendree game will get underway about 9:15 according to the present plans.

Jacksonville high and Routt will provide the basketball entertainment Friday night, the Grimsoms meeting Ashland's revived Panthers in a double header, while Routt is entertaining the present Catholic League leaders.

The Tigers probably will use the same line-up that carried them to victories over Bath and Franklin in the Ashland invitational tournament last week before getting a set-back at the hands of Ashland, 16-15, in the titular game. Wells and Rajski, the high scorers on the team, Baumann, center, Arman and Wildrich, guards, probably will be the starting line-up.

Begin Tonight at 7:15
Tonight's engagement on the Tiger court will be called for 7:15, with the second strings of the two schools meeting in a curtain raiser at 7:15.

The Shadows lost one of their regular guards just before the Winchester tournament began, because of an injury, but in spite of the set-back they were able to keep their record of getting to the semi-finals or finals in the tournament. They still will be without the services of the guard to build up a replacement.

Murrayville has one of the best high school basketball players in the state in Kenneth Brown, junior, who captains the team. Brown is the king pin of the attack, but plays so unobtrusively and works with the rest of the players on the team so well, that his playing has to be studied so thoroughly before it is appreciated. His brother, Keith Brown, plays a forward position.

Bathers Dive 'Round and Around at 8 Below, Below!

Bud Dant, Chicago dance band trumpeter, probably was playing that "below, below" line in "The Music Goes 'Round and Around," when this picture of the Chicago Polar Bears Club in bathing was snapped. For it was 8 below zero when the hardy souls, dressed in shorts and slippers, slipped into Lake Michigan's icy waters for their weekly Sunday swim. Instead of singing "Whoa-oh-oh, oh-oh-oh," they stuttered "Br-r-r, r-r-r."

are tables for games including cards and checkers. It is expected to have ping pong tables and shuffle boards in a short time.

Rev. J. F. Breen is to have charge of the men's activities and Mrs. Ross Barnard will be in charge of the activities for women which will be held in the club room of the library. There will be things for men to do, as well as boys and girls and the young people of the city. There will be craft work for women and other means of entertainment under the direction of Mrs. Barnard.

Plans are underway to flood the grounds back of the high school for ice skating and arrangements are being completed to secure a place where the children can go sledding. All these activities are free to any one who cares to participate. Later on other out-door activities are planned.

The first program is planned to be held in the K. P. hall Wednesday night of this week.

The same general plan is to be carried out in each of the four cities in the county, and also to extend into the rural communities, cooperating with the Farm Bureau plans along this line. There will be a program for music and dramatics also as the work gets under way.

Miss Knight Entertains
Miss Nellie Knight entertained Saturday evening at her home west of the city, complimenting Mrs. Hulan Dawson of LaSalle and Mrs. Allen Kelley of Jacksonville. Miss Knight was assisted by Mrs. Harold Parks of Alton in entertaining. There were two tables at bridge. Miss Margaret Vermillion was awarded first prize. Mrs. Clement Knight the second, prize, and Mrs. Charles Gano the all around prize. The guests of honor were given a shower of gifts.

Those present were Mrs. Dawson of LaSalle; Mrs. Kelley and Miss Ardath Allen of Jacksonville; Mrs. David Pierson of St. Louis; Mrs. Parks of Alton; Mrs. Rollin Day, Mrs. Charles Gano, Mrs. Clement Knight, Margaret Vermillion and Nellie Knight of White Hall.

Small Fire Tuesday
A fire alarm was turned in Tuesday morning from the home of Charles Davis on Ayers street, but the blaze was extinguished before the fire department even left the engine room. This was the first alarm to be turned in since the severe zero weather in White Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ballard and daughter, Geraldine of Rock Island, were guests of Mr. Ballard's stepfather, John Smith, on East Bridgeport street, Sunday, and called on other friends while here. Mr. Ballard was formerly agent for the Burlington railroad here and is now agent at Rock Island for the same railroad.

Mrs. Frank M. Schofield, formerly Miss Ellen Garrison of this city, left Monday to join her husband in Woodtown, New Jersey, where Mr. Schofield has taken a position with the DuPont factory as a chemist. Mrs. Schofield has been teaching in the high school at Maroa, Illinois, for the past five years and has resigned her position there to join her husband.

In Camp on Island
Howard L. Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nash, who is in a CCC camp, has been transferred from Lakewood, Wisconsin, to Rock Island, Illinois, where he is located on a nine hundred acre island in the Mississippi river. He writes to his parents that the island is a beautiful place and that he is taking advantage of the educational course offered boys in camp and is taking a college course in English. He attended the White Hall school and graduated from the Carrollton high school, two years ago.

Miss Schneider, R. N., has been taking care of A. E. Vosseller, who is suffering from pneumonia, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leo Erb on West Bridgeport street. Mr. Vosseller was thought to be improving late Tuesday evening. His wife who is a patient in Our Saviour's hospital, is also thought to be improving.

Adelle, the sixteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown of Hillview, who has been a medical patient in the White Hall hospital was able to return to her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Leonard Frye, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, following the birth of a child, and living near Nowak bridge north of Wrights, is very much improved and doing nicely.

Franklin callers in Jacksonville yesterday afternoon included Oral Reese.

Prepare Papers for Lafayette School

Contracts for New School are Received; Must Be Signed, Then Approved by PWA

Contracts were received Tuesday night for the construction of the new Lafayette school building. Within the next few days the various contractors who have been awarded the work will sign these documents, which must then be approved by the Public Works Administration.

It will require some time to get all papers having to do with the project signed and approved, and the bonds arranged. Although PWA has tentatively approved contracts, final approval must be given before the work can start.

It will be at least a week before any further definite steps toward actual construction can be taken. No date has been set for transferring the pupils of the school to temporary quarters to make way for the wrecking of the old building.

Norburys Home Safe After Ship Crash On Tropical Cruise

Local Tourists Find Sailing Pleasant Along Central American Coast

Dr. and Mrs. Garm Norbury and son, Barnes Norbury, returned yesterday from a two weeks cruise along the Central American coast. They report a splendid trip, and Dr. Norbury is much improved in health. The weather was tropical during the cruise, and at a Nicaraguan port the tourists enjoyed surf-bathing.

They traveled from New Orleans on the Amapala, ship of the Standard Fruit and Steamship Co. on one of its regular commercial cruises. The ship brought back 29,000 bunches of bananas from the Central American "banana coasts" of Nicaragua and Honduras. Coffee was also brought from Nicaragua. The tourists stopped at ports in both countries.

They also had a lay-over at the Atlantic terminus of the Panama Canal, and took a plane from Cristobal to Panama City on the Pacific side. They saw the Pacific by air and were interested in the trip across the isthmus divide. After an automobile tour of Panama City, the party returned by train to the Atlantic side and boarded their ship.

The most exciting part of the journey, Dr. Norbury said, was the collision between the Amapala and the oil tanker Camden, which occurred about 5:30 o'clock Monday morning in the Mississippi river some seventy miles below New Orleans. The ship was returning to its home port when the accident occurred. No one was injured, and the Amapala was beached about 6 o'clock.

The passengers remained on the vessel until 1 o'clock that afternoon when a sister ship of the Amapala came down from New Orleans. They were transferred by a tug and completed their trip in safety. There was much excitement at the time of the collision, but the passengers and crew of the Amapala remained calm. The captain ran the ship into the river bank.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brown of Murfreesboro were shopping in the city yesterday.

Callers in the local community yesterday from Nortonville included Mr. and Mrs. Bert Grider.

BOY, 5, SAVES TWO

BROTHERS FROM FIRE

Leads Them Out of House
After Fire Breaks Out

Kansas City—(P)—Five-year-old Davy Mollett was a neighborhood hero today.

He and his brothers, four-months-old Johnny and Richard, 3, were alone in the house when fire broke out. Davy took Johnny in his arms, grabbed Richard by the hand and made his way through the smoke-filled room to the front yard.

"Mother told me to take care of my brothers while she was away and I did," grinned Davy.

Tall Stories Will Take Prizes When C. of C. Men Meet

Griggsville Businessmen Will Spin Yarns Next Thursday Evening

Griggsville—The Griggsville Chamber of Commerce is planning a novel entertainment for Thursday, Feb. 6—a night with tall stories with local artists telling them. Attractive prizes will be awarded the best and second tall story.

The affair is being held in connection with the annual meeting and election of officers.

Revival Continues

The two weeks' Friendly Gospel
Crusade under the leadership of Mr.
and Mrs. James Kindig, evangelists, is rapidly drawing to a close. About fifty decisions have been made thus far in the crusade. Monday night the half hour's special musical program filled the church basement where the services are being held during the cold weather.

The following is the schedule for the rest of the campaign:

Thursday night—Surprise Choir
Night.

Friday night—"Electric Cross Night."

Sunday—9:30 a. m. Church school.
R. H. Jester, supt.; 10:45 a. m. Morning worship, sermon by L. J. Kindig.

"In the Harms With God"; 6:30 p. m. Young People's meeting; 7:30
p. m. Closing service, "An Hour Inside the Pearly Gates."

Pike County Meeting

The annual group meeting for pastor and officials of the M. E. churches in Pike county will be held in the M.
E. church in Pittsfield next Monday,
Feb. 3.

Speakers for the evening include Dr.
T. B. Lugg, Rev. O. F. Jones, W. B.
Bunn, Rev. J. A. Johnson and Dr.
William G. Pulliam. The meeting begins with a supper at 6:30 p. m., served by the Pittsfield Ladies' Aid society.

Kiwanis Club Meets

The Kiwanis club held its regular weekly meeting in the domestic science serving room at the school last night starting at 6:30 p. m. Mr.
and Mrs. L. James Kindig, evangelists, who are conducting a Friendly Gospel Crusade in the local M. E. church, were present to play and sing.

Mrs. H. S. Hunter, chairman of the President's Birthday Ball, has completed plans for the celebration which is to be held in the school auditorium this evening.

Fund Would Provide Therapy for Local Crippled Children

Money from Birthday Ball
Needed for Treatment
in Bathing Pool

Two-thirds of the money raised from proceeds of the birthday ball to be held here this evening is to be used in the work of aiding crippled children in this community. If the sum of $200 can be secured for the local work, it will be possible to give these children physiotherapy treatment similar to that given at Warm Springs, Ga.

It is hoped to secure sufficient funds to provide under-water exercises for the children in the Nichols park pool during the summer. About twenty children here would be eligible for this treatment. Miss Josephine Milligan, who took the treatment at Warm Springs, has trained a college student to give the treatments. He would be provided with a car to transport the children to and from the pool, and would give them the exercises as prescribed.

The money raised from the 1935 ball is being used to pay transportation of crippled children who are attending a school being taught by Miss Milligan at her home, 309 Woodland place. The class is a part of the public school system and is supervised by the local Board of Education. Five pupils are now attending. They take the same studies taught in the public schools.

These children must be provided with comfortable chairs, and must be transported between their homes and the school. The fund raised at the ball pays transportation. The underwater treatment it is hoped to provide next summer to the children, enabling them to get proper exercise and keeping them out of doors a part of the day.

The other third of the fund raised here is sent to the national committee and is used in research designed to prevent infantile paralysis.

FOR QUICK RESULTS, ADVERTISE

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Des Moines, Jan. 29—(P)—Warning that "if we have to we can declare a state of martial law," Gov. Clyde L.
Herring tonight called a conference of Iowa coal operators for 9 a. m. tomorrow in an effort to prevent suffering from a threatened coal shortage.

The governor said tonight, however, he would first urge strong action be taken to permit miners to work Saturday and Sunday, before restoring to more drastic measures. Under the 35-hour work mines are not operated on those two days.

Governor Herring declared "relief directors in several parts of Iowa have informed me the situation is becoming desperate. They say they have enough coal to last but a few days more.
Something must be done about this situation and that's why I want to get the operators together at the state house tomorrow to figure out a means of immediate action."

"If we have to we can declare a state of martial law. The work schedule (of miners) is set by federal regulation, but in a case like this the state is supreme in itself. We will find a means of subsidizing coal somehow at the meeting today."

When anger reigns, stormy words are apt to flow.

Col. F. Ank Knox

Tells Business

Men To Get Busy

Declares They Should Stop Complaining About Their Government

Cleveland, Jan. 29.—(P)—Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher frequently mentioned as a Republican candidate for president, asserted tonight "It is time the business men of this nation stopped complaining about their government and began doing something about it."

Addressing 1,200 northern Ohio Republicans in the Tippecanoe Club's 33rd annual McKinley Day banquet, Knox drew a parallel between the coming campaign and the McKinley-Bryan campaign of 1896.

"What American business—and the American people—needed in 1896 was a guarantee of a sound currency and a sound credit structure.

"Those things McKinley promised and delivered," he said, adding that the American people and American business now need "the same things."

Daniel Morgan, former city manager, was toastmaster. Morgan has been active in Ohio in behalf of Senator William E. Borah as a presidential candidate. Knox conferred with Morgan today.

Knox also met with Clarence J.
Brown, Ohio publisher who is active in Knox's behalf in Ohio.

The Chicago publisher, in a speech prepared for delivery before a McKinley Day dinner of the Cleveland Tippecanoe Club, drew sharp distinction between what he termed a "Socialistic New Deal party" and the Democratic party.

He described the Supreme Court as

Legality Of Big Bank Loan Before Federal Courts

Stockholders Claim Loan
Made In Violation
Of Law

Chicago, Jan. 29.—(P)—Legality of a $50,000,000 loan made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to the Central Republic Bank and Trust Company in 1932 was challenged today in federal court.

The RFC is seeking recovery of approximately $10,000,000 from Illinois stockholders of the Central Republic Trust Company, liquidating shell for the bank.

Attorneys for the stockholders contended today the loan was made in violation of a law prohibiting the RFC to advance money to institutions whose officers had been officers of the RFC within a year of the date of the loan.

"General Charles G. Dawes was both chairman of the RFC and of the bank within a month of authorization of the loan," Attorney Edward R.
Johnston told Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Johnston said the defense would attempt to prove definitely that the final advance of $50,000,000 on the total loan of $80,000,000 was contrary to the officer law, which he said became effective July 21, 1932.

"We will show that the $50,000,000 advanced required a new approval by the RFC and that certain terms and conditions had been imposed by the RFC in connection with the authorization of the loan, one of these being that the money was to be used to keep the bank open and not for liquidation purposes."

The position of the RFC, as outlined by its chief counsel, O. J. Rogge, was in part that the law did not apply to the loan because the loan was authorized before the law was passed.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—(P)—Hog prices slipped 10 to 15 cents lower today influenced by the lagging demand for pork in retail channels. Wholesale pork prices were around 50 cents lower on top of yesterday's $1 per hundred decline.

Easiness in the live market disregarded the fact that supplies of hogs were modest. Only 16,000 were shipped in, including 4,000 direct. The highest price paid was $10.25.

The general cattle trade was about steady although a few choice and prime steers were fully steady early. These sold at $12.50 upward and brought a top of $14.60. The bulk of the steer run, however, sold at $8.25 to $11.30.

Clearance of fat lambs was affected at 25 cents higher prices for the bulk. Yearlings were 25 cents higher with the top 50 cents above Tuesday's best price. The top for slaughter lambs was $10.85, and for yearlings $10.

HANDICRAFT WILL

Chicago, Jan. 29.—(P)—Cash wheat was steady to 1 cent lower today. Receipts were 19 cars; shipping sales 38,000 bushels, including 26,000 bushels new red, 5,000 bushels old red and 7,000 bushels hard.

Corn was 1/4 cent lower. Receipts were 89 cars; shipping sales 19,000 bushels; booked to arrive 76,000 bushels.

Oats were steady to 1 cent lower. Receipts were 12 cars; shipping sales 14,000 bushels.

Wheat Prices Take Nosedive

By John P. Boughan
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago, Jan. 29.—(P)—Stop-loss selling by holders of futures thrust wheat values down today to well below $1.00, more than cancelling recent gains attributed to inflation talk.

General liquidating sales of wheat at Liverpool, with European continental countries offering freely, did much to unsettle prices. A particular source of weakness abroad was Portuguese government action authorizing wheat exports that will total 11,000,000 bushels.

Wheat closed heavy at about the day's bottom level, 2-1/2 cents under yesterday's finish, May 991-1/2, corn 4-1/2 off, May 591-1/2, oats unchanged to 1/2 lower and provisions varying from 2 cents setback to an equal advance.

Uneasiness of owners of wheat futures was increased by the fact that no export business of any consequence was announced at Winnipeg, and that domestic demand for flour remained disappointing. It was emphasized that although United States primary receipts of wheat are small, this is offset by big surplus stocks in Canada. Talk was also current that Canada's carry-over at the end of the crop year promised now to be still huge in proportion to normal stocks, and that the United States will have a carry-over at least as large as a year ago.

On top of prospects of abundant old stocks of wheat at the beginning of the new crop year, some trade authorities asserted that an outlook for big 1936 crops in this country and in Canada seems more than likely. Uncertainties as to possible United States retroactive processing taxes were likewise referred to as a weight on the market, undoubtedly restricting enlargement of flour sales. Misgivings over the details of the new farm relief bill pending in Washington were an additional bearish factor.

Stock Prices Are Moving Higher

By Frank MacMillan.
New York, Jan. 29.—(P)—An energetic buying drive in the final hour of stock market trading today sent price averages to new highs since 1931 for the third consecutive session.

Aviation and motor shares formed the spearhead of the advance, but the price line was strengthened along a broad front.

The Associated Press averages gained 4 of a point at 59.1, bringing it up to another new top since early September, 1931. The industrial, rail and utility components each made peaks for 1935-36 or longer.

In individual issues there were gains of 1 to 4 points in numerous cases. A considerable part of the day's activity, however, was provided by low-priced utilities and motors, where gains were in many cases fractional, as they were in quite a few of the pivotal industrials.

Trading galloped along at the finish, as well as in the first hour, though during much of the session turnover was not particularly brisk. In the stock exchange 2,604,235 shares changed ownership at a somewhat reduced hourly rate from the four-hour session Tuesday, when volume was 2,392,800 shares.

The principal commodities offered no aid to stocks in their upward thrust. Corn was 1/2 to 1 of a cent lower. A last-minute turn-about in cotton left it 20 to 60 cents a bale higher after early irregularity.

Brokerage observers said the buying in motors appeared to have given the list its biggest boost, where the earlier firmness in oils, farm shares, and utilities had not attracted a particularly aggressive following.

STATE SPENT FIFTY THOUSAND LAST YEAR OF SERUMS, VACCINES

Springfield, Ill.—Illinois spent $50,163 last year on vaccines and serums as "munitions of war" against contagious diseases, it was reported today.

Dr. Frank J. Jirka, state health director, said the vaccines and other preventive preparations distributed by the state prevented fully 15,000 cases of various diseases and protected 20 times as many persons against future hazards of infection.

Toxoids distributed included 221,210 for diphtheria, 167,180 for smallpox, 81,428 for typhoid, 2,249 for rabies and silver nitrate for eyes of 127,944 new-born babies.

The STRANGE CASE of JULIA CRAIG

by Nerd Jones

Copyright NEA 1935

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JULIA CRAIG, pretty young secretary to GEORGE WOODFORD, lawyer, is ambitious to become a night club singer. Julia shares an apartment with AMY SANDERS.

PETER KEMP, young lawyer, is in love with Julia but they quarrel and Julia declares she never wants to see him again.

Woodford gives a party aboard his yacht and asks Julia to come to sing for his guests, including CINTRA LEE, dancer, MRS. JOSEPH, widow, HUGO NASH, and ROYAL NESBITT. Julia goes, later regrets it when she finds the cruise is to be much longer than a week-end.

The yacht lands at Evergreen Island where Woodford, a judge, Julia meets TOM PAXSON, a gambler, who offers to help her get away, but he is discovered and forced to leave the island.

The men go hunting and Nesbitt is injured. Woodford's party leaves at once to get Nesbitt to a doctor.

Julia tells Woodford she is giving up her job in his office.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIII

DINNER that night was not as difficult for Julia as she had feared after her angry words with Woodford. When Obo announced dinner and she met the others in the main cabin, Woodford was reserved but courteous.

Indeed, with the assistance of a tray of Obo's potent cocktails, everyone appeared jovial. Nesbitt's arm was in a sling to relieve weight from his injured shoulder muscles, but he laughed and joked in something like his old manner.

He and Cintra sat together and Julia thought she sensed a new feeling between them, as if since the "accident" they had come to some definite understanding.

Nash seemed a bit morose and embarrassed, and Julia wondered if, perhaps, his conscience were asserting itself at last. Whenever Nesbitt addressed him, Hugo Nash appeared surprised and timid. "He hates him," Julia thought, "and now that he failed to kill him, he's afraid of him, too."

She was glad that tomorrow night she would be ashore, away from these five people with their loves and their hates and their obsessions.

SHE retired early that night, with the Wood Nymph's engines throbbing mightier than ever beneath the deck. Woodford had ordered full speed on, and Bakely was giving the power plant every thing it would stand and a bit more.

When Julia awakened next morning and peered through the port hole above her berth she saw with delight that the scenery on shore was more familiar to her. She knew that now they were not many hours from town, and she went to breakfast almost jubilantly.

Nesbitt's chair was empty. Many times afterward Julia was to remember that moment. It was curious that the sight of the empty chair should have startled her, for it could have been that Nesbitt was late for breakfast—or that his arm pained him and he had decided not to eat just then. Yet somehow the sight of that empty chair had struck her with peculiar force.

Southern Democrats Rap F.D.R.

Condemn Administration's Record and Demand Return to Principles of State's Rights at Parley.

PRESENT RESOLUTIONS

Macon, Ga.—(AP)—Insurgent southern Democrats, rallied by the cry of "states' rights," organized at a "grass roots" mass meeting today for a drive against the nomination of President Roosevelt for a second term.

Resolutions condemning the administration's records were presented and the Roosevelt policies were assailed in speeches by Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia, himself a tentative candidate for the presidency and John Henry Kirby of Houston, Tex., wealthy head of the southern committee to uphold the constitution.

Talmadge asserted "There is nothing to becloud the issues of sovereignty of local self-government."

"If the present program is continued for four more years, the lines between the states will be only a shadow on paper, and the government of the separate states will be subservient to the will of a central power in Washington."

Talmadge and Kirby called "Jeffersonian Democrats of 17 cotton belt and border states to the session in this central Georgia city of 60,000."

The thing President Roosevelt is providing for us," Kirby told the assembly. "It is some fashion of slavish, contemptible, all-oppressing bureaucracy. The security it may give will be no better than that found behind the walls of the Atlanta penitentiary."

"No real Democrat can or will endorse Mr. Roosevelt."

The platform committee, headed by Hugh Howell, chairman of the Talmadge-controlled Georgia Democratic executive committee, presented resolutions reaffirming faith in the party's national platform of 1932 and expressing regret that it "has been repudiated and treated as only a scrap of paper."

"Since March, 1932," the committee said, "there has been practically a suspension of constitutional government in our country and a radical departure from the time-honored teachings of the Democratic party."

The committee said "We do not regard the occupant of the White House as a Democrat."

"He has broken the pledge of our party and violated the platform of 1932."

The committee condemned "the usurpation of lawmaking power by the president" and they described the power of the Supreme Court as "the greatest safeguard to the rights of the citizens."

Cold Weather Hurts Steel Orders, Claim

Railroad Buying Continues to Improve

New York —(AP)—Nation-wide cold weather had its effect this week even in the steel business, checking the movement of pig iron and steel. Iron Age reported today.

At the same time bad weather accentuated the uncertainty in the automobile industry, the survey found. "Used car sales, which hold the key to production of new motor cars, have been virtually halted," the magazine said, "but in the face of this condition automotive orders for sheets have improved slightly, though they were uniformly small tonnages, reflecting the current conservatism of the motor trade."

Railroad buying of steel continues to improve, it was reported, while structural steel awards were the highest last week since the third week in April, 1935.

Tax Relief for Cook Is Passed

Will Require Chicago and Suburban Territory to Levy 30 Cent Tax in Order to Get State Funds.

SENATE PASSES 5 BILLS

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—In a stormy session the senate today passed five bills requiring Chicago and suburban townships to levy taxes for poor relief—a signal victory for downstate members.

The first of the Hickman-Lantz-Finn series of measures aimed at Chicago was passed by a vote of 26 to 15 and the same roll call was applied to the other four bills.

Under the measures, Chicago and suburban townships would have to levy a 30 cent pauper relief tax to be eligible for state relief grants from the sales tax.

The measures were sponsored by W. H. Hickman, Paris Democrat; Simon E. Lantz, Congerville Republican, and Dr. W. L. Finn, Iuka Democrat.

Senator T. V. Smith was the only member of the Chicago delegation to vote for the bills and James O. Monroe, Collinsville Democrat, stood alone among the downstate members by voting against them.

The measures would require a 30 cent tax levy by local governments to be eligible for state relief grants from the sales tax.

Vote on the measure followed a stormy debate in which downstate Republicans and Democrats joined against the Chicago delegation.

Senator Harold G. Ward, the Chicago spokesman, said:

"While we have $18,000,000 in the state treasury, there is no justification for any increase in taxation. The state administration is not running a private bank and should not try to hoard the funds."

Simon E. Lantz of Congerville, Republican leader of the farm bloc, asserted that Cook county has received a third of a billion dollars in state and federal relief grants, while downstate communities have assessed themselves for millions.

"Lucky?"

I'll say so!

"Suffered a fire loss that would have been mighty bad but for the fact I had a good policy with Hook & Co., that will go a long way toward fixing us up again. Fire insurance is a great thing, I'm telling you."

Morgan County Couple To Observe Seventieth Wedding Date Today

Less than a year after a Morgan county young man was "mustered" out of service in the Union army after serving as an infantryman during the Civil war he was united in marriage with a young woman from Scott county. This marriage ceremony which was performed in Manchester on January 30, 1866, united John Boruff and Miss Mary Ellen Grant. Today they observe their seventieth wedding anniversary, at the home of a daughter in this city. Mr. Boruff is nearing his 93rd birthday and Mrs. Boruff will soon be 87 years of age.

Over a period of time which is greater in number of years than most people live Mr. and Mrs. Boruff have made their home in Morgan county, and today they are keenly alive to the events of the day, and considering their advanced ages are enjoying fairly good health. They are spending the winter months with their daughter, Mrs. Cora Royalty, 231 Pine street.

Woman's Club At Chapin Entertains Guests Tuesday

MacMurray College Faculty Of Jacksonville Furnishes Talent; News

Chapin, Jan. 29.—Miss Beatrice Teague and Miss Mahala McGeehee of the MacMurray College supplied delightful entertainment for the members of the Chapin Woman's club and their guests Tuesday afternoon. Miss Amy Onken assisted by Mrs. Gustav Onken and Mrs. Harry Onken were hostesses at the annual "Guest Day" of the club. Owing to the extremely cold weather many were unable to be present and so missed a rare treat in music and the very interesting talk by Miss Teague on her last summer's visit in France. Piano numbers: "Moonlight".....Robert "The Minstrel".....Robert Miss Mahala McGeehee. Talk—Miss Beatrice Teague. Piano, "The Little White Donkey"—Debussey—Mrs. McGeehee. During a social hour the hostesses served a delicious luncheon. Guests at the club members: Mrs. O. H. Coultas, Springfield; Mrs. Erwin Aufdenkamp, Mrs. Minnie Bolhorst, Mrs. Ray Brookhouse, Mrs. Ellen Coultas, Mrs. Jay Cooper, Miss Esther Dumas, Mrs. M. Egdorf, Mrs. E. J. Lashmet, Miss Mary Onken, Mrs. R. C. Porter, Mrs. H. Postlewait, Mrs. B. J. Taylor, Mrs. Henry Vortman.

News Notes

Mrs. H. Postlewait entertained a number of little folks Saturday afternoon in honor of her little daughter, Donna Jean's sixth birthday. Games were played and a lovely birthday cake with six candles graced the table where ice cream and cup cakes were served and then the birthday cake was cut and served. Donna Jean's guests were Joyce Perib, Jean Mattes, Anna Thompson, Catherine Medlock, Patty Dehart, Judy Hinds, Nancy Jo Hinds, Velma Vanier, Joan Hogan, Wilma Tieman, Wanda Tieman, David Porter and Robert Porter. Mrs. William Johnson, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. A. N. Brown of Griggsville, left Tuesday morning for Winfield, Kansas, to visit their father, R. C. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Antrobus of Ottawa and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weir of Springfield were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Antrobus.

Georgia Chapman Passes Away Here

Death Occurs At Hospital Wednesday; Rites To Be Friday

Miss Georgia Chapman died yesterday at 12:40 o'clock at Passavant hospital. She was born January 25, 1894, in Virginia, and had been making her home with her sister in this city, Mrs. Earl Smith, 202 Franklin street. The Massie Funeral Home in Virginia took the body to the Jacksonville residence. She had devoted twenty-three years of her life in the public schools of Cass, Morgan and Scott counties, the last five of which were in the primary room in South Jacksonville. Surviving is a brother, William Chapman, of Beardstown, and four sisters, Miss Vida Chapman of Jacksonville, Mrs. Margaret Myers of Jacksonville, R. R. Frances Smith of Jacksonville and Mrs. Elizabeth Ryman of Jacksonville. Funeral services will be held in the Luterbyr Christian church Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with Rev. J. H. Parker of Virginia in charge. Burial will be in Walnut Ridge cemetery in Virginia.

WEDNESDAY FOR RICHARD BALLEW

Funeral services for Richard Ballew were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Williamson Funeral Home, in charge of Rev. D. C. Byus. Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery. Mrs. Ethel Black was the soloist at the funeral services, her songs being "Beautiful Isle" and "God Will Take Care of You." The pallbearers were Byron Leder, Russell DeVault, Francis Allen, Alfred Eads, Guy Linn and Harold Curdie.

TRUCK CATCHES FIRE

A truck owned by W. M. Brogdon, of this city, caught fire Wednesday at the intersection of Finley and West State streets. The fire department was called and extinguished the blaze before damage resulted.

March to the sea with Sherman began. Mr. Boruff relates that on many occasions Confederates were met, but the progress of the Union army was never impeded.

Their objective reached "soldiering" resolved itself into work for the northern army—work with but little food. For three weeks the only ration of the Union army was rice gathered from the shocks in the field, by the soldiers. However, it was not long before the army went to Washington to participate in the final march of the victorious soldiers. Mr. Boruff was mustered out of service June 7, 1865. After Mr. Boruff's discharge from the army he was united in marriage with Miss Grant and they took up their residence on a farm in the Murrayville community, where many years of their lives were spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Boruff are the parents of three children now living. C. A. Boruff and Mrs. Royalty, both of this city, and Carl Boruff, of Canada.

Missing Mountain Climber's Body Has Been Found

Delmar Fadden Had Been Missing Since 13th Of January

Seattle, Jan. 29.—(P)—The body of Delmar Fadden, 23, mountain climber missing since Jan. 13, was found late today at the 13,000 foot elevation on Mount Rainier—a victim of an attempt to scale the 14,408 foot peak in January, a feat never accomplished.

The body was sighted from an airplane by Ome Daiber, Seattle mountaineer. Last week Daiber led volunteer searchers aloft above the 10,000-foot level and found some of the missing young man's belongings.

"We saw the body the first time we came really close to the snowfield above Steamboat Prow," Daiber said on alighting here after the flight. "He was lying, face down, head pointing down the slope."

"Had we continued up the route we followed Sunday we would have come on his body afoot."

Daiber believed Mount Rainier National Park service rangers would ascend the peak to recover Fadden's body.

Fadden is the 13th person to die in efforts to scale the snow-capped peak. His crevasse-cut heights have lured 11 men and two women to their deaths in the last forty years.

Elliot Merrill, aviation instructor at Boeing Field, piloted the plane from which the body was sighted. From the plane, Charles Laidlow, serial photographer, mapped the mountain with a telescopic lens.

Fadden left Sunrise Park the night of Jan. 13. Park officials said his exploit was the first one attempted in January and would have been forbidden had they known of it.

Elmer E. Henry Taken By Death

Former Morgan County Man Passes Away In California

Word was received here last night of the death of Elmer E. Henry in Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. Henry was born in Woodstock and spent the greater part of his life in Illinois. About twenty years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Henry moved to Los Angeles where they have since made their home.

Oldest Resident Of County Dies

James Williams Passes Away Wednesday; Was 105 Years Of Age

James Williams, probably the oldest resident of Morgan county, passed away at the County Home Wednesday afternoon at the advanced age of 105 years.

Williams was for many years in the employ of the family of the late Henry H. Hall, who resided on West College Ave.

While no official records are available, Williams claimed that he was 105 years old and many of the older residents of the city believe that he was probably correct. The aged negro was well known in Jacksonville.

The remains were removed to the Reynolds Mortuary. No funeral arrangements have been made. Williams had no living relatives.

ALSEY MAN OVERCOME BY FUMES FROM MOTOR HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Alsey, Jan. 29.—Lee Northcutt narrowly escaped serious injury Monday night when he was overcome by fumes from the exhaust from his truck. He had delivered a truck load of wood four miles south of Alsey and on the return trip his truck stalled on the icy road. Orvel Hayes and Laurence McGuire who were with him walked to the home of Allen Fowler a truck driver who lived about a quarter of a mile distant, to get help. On their return they found Lee overcome by the fumes from the motor which had been left running. Lee regained consciousness on the return trip to Alsey and is able to be out again.

Students of Alsey public schools are setting up an enviable attendance record despite the recent period of sub-zero weather and drifting snow.

Although over 40 per cent of the school enrollment live on farms and journey up to eight miles to reach school, the attendance mark for the past few days has averaged well over 90 per cent.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Carriager drove to Milton Wednesday where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. French.

Four Power Naval Conference Makes Definite Progress

Move Toward Agreement On Sizes Of Ships And Caliber Of Guns

London, Jan. 29.—(P)—The four-power naval conference made definite progress toward an agreement on the sizes of ships and calibers of guns today when the Americans, French and Italians accepted a new British compromise plan as a basis for discussion.

The plan proposes battleships with a maximum of 35,000 tons, the existing limits; 16-inch guns instead of the present 14-inch ones, which would be eliminated; and an entirely separate category for destroyers, placing them in a classification with small cruisers.

Major reductions in naval tonnage savings the taxpayers real money, which the powers have talked about for several years, are now regarded by them as impossible because of the unsettled condition of world affairs and Japan's recent withdrawal from the conference.

The British said they hoped the conference, which resumed sessions today for the first time since the death of King George, would decide to shelve down some of the proposed maximum figures. But naval experts believe any alteration probably will be slight.

The British proposal is understood to correspond roughly with limitations under the expiring Washington and London treaties.

Norman H. Davis, head of the American delegation, urged the conference to consider extending the official life of battleships from the present 20 years to 25 years.

He said the United States had wanted to reduce the numbers of battleships and other types by 20 per cent but, taken as a whole, the British dual items would "require further plan was acceptable to it as a basis for discussion although some individual study."
